Discover the charm and sunshine of the South of France from the deck of a luxury barge. From the historic Canal du Midi to the vineyards of Bordeaux and the wild beauty of Provence and Camargue, each cruise offers a journey through timeless landscapes, fine wines, and rich Mediterranean culture.

CANAL DU MIDI

Winding its way from Toulouse to Sète, the 300-year-old Canal du Midi is among France's most scenic waterways. Glide beneath elegant arched bridges and past golden vineyards, historic villages, and medieval strongholds. With Mediterranean sunshine, and a serene pace of life, relaxation begins the moment you step aboard.

BEST TIME TO GO:

The ideal months are May to September, when mild temperatures and vibrant greenery create a perfect backdrop for cruising. Spring brings blooming flowers, while summer offers long sunny days to relax on deck.

BORDEAUX

The Bordeaux region captures the essence of southern France - sunny days, relaxed living and timeless charm. Centred on the elegant city of Bordeaux, this area lies between Aquitaine and the Midi-Pyrénées. Expect exquisite cuisine, rolling vineyards, medieval towns and a tranquil countryside that invites you to slow down and savour every moment.

BEST TIME TO GO:

Late spring (May-June) and early autumn (September-October) are perfect for Bordeaux. Enjoy pleasant weather, fewer crowds, and the grape harvest season, when vineyards come alive with activity and tastings.

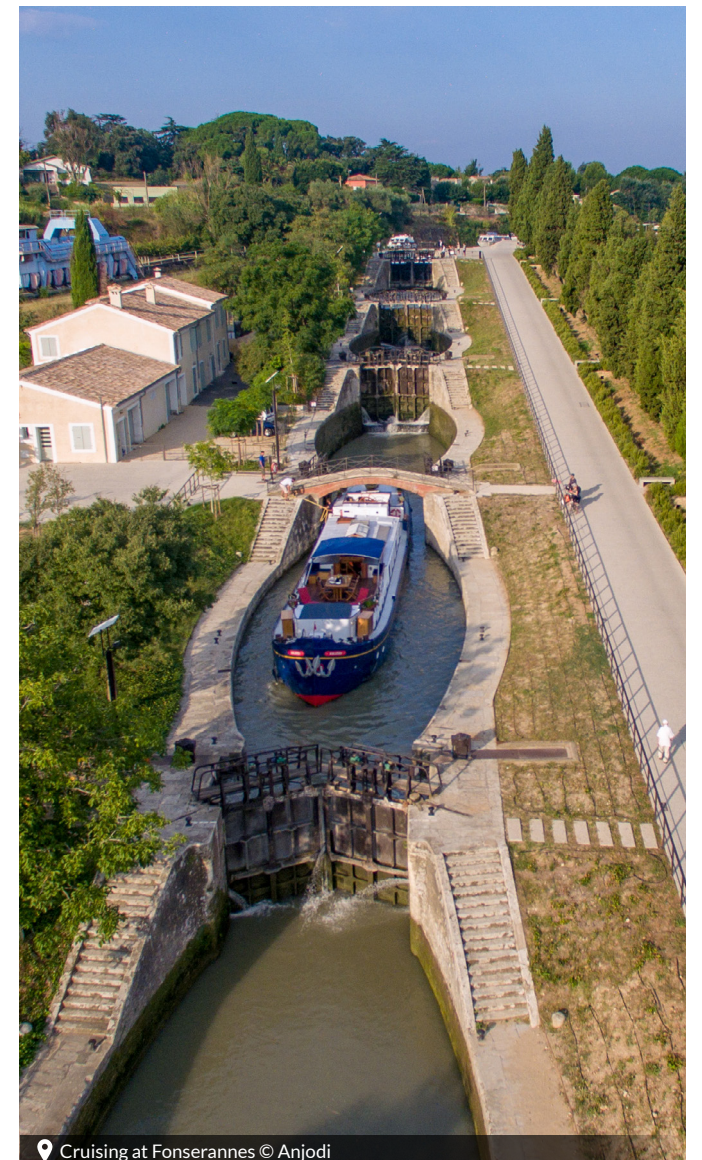

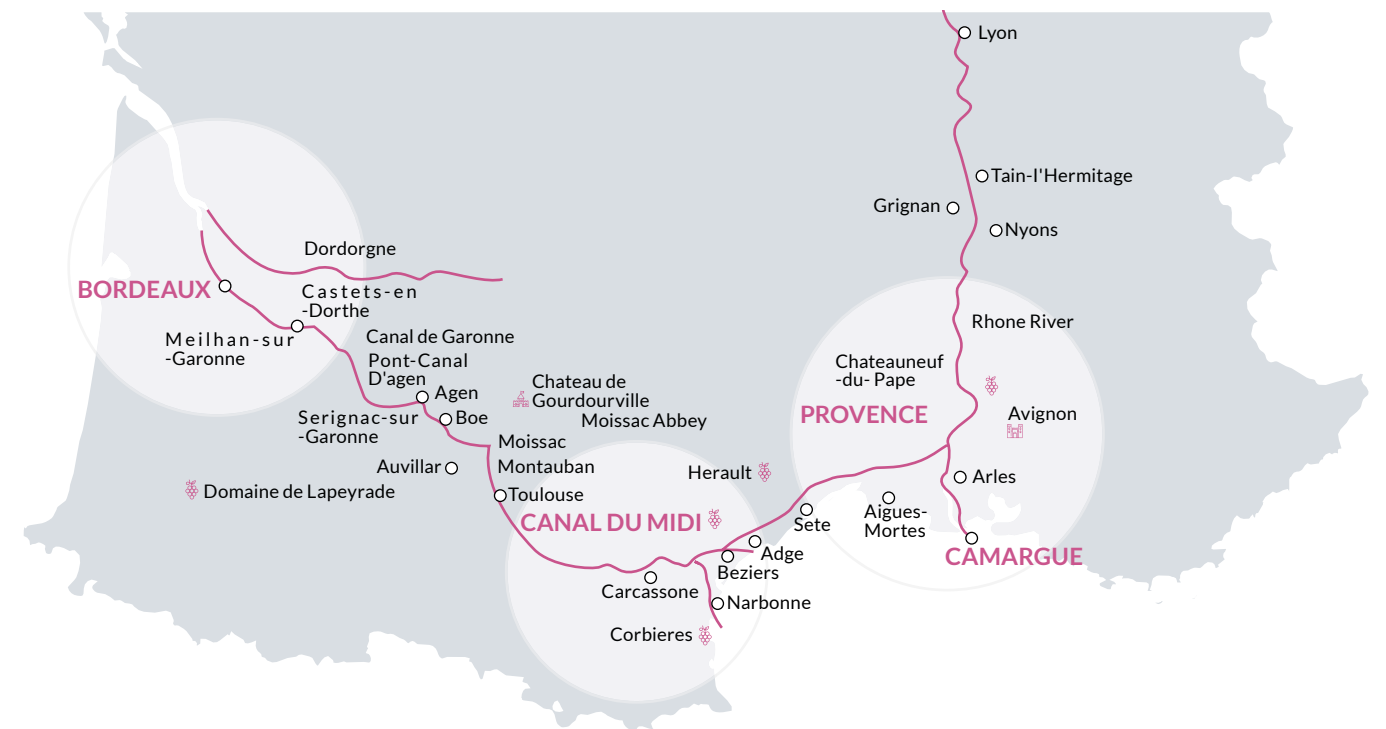

PROVENCE & CAMARGUE

A landscape beloved by Cézanne and other great artists, Provence enchants with its lavender fields, olive groves, Roman ruins and perched villages. To the south, the Camargue unfolds as a wild, open region of salt flats, white horses, pink flamingos and vast wetlands - a protected regional park, best explored by barge. Highlights include bird-watching, horse riding and visiting the dramatic walled city of Aigues-Mortes.

BEST TIME TO GO:

Visit between June and September to bask in Provence's warm, sunny climate. Lavender fields bloom in early summer, and the region's charming villages and markets buzz with energy throughout these months.
