Tofino Resort and Marina is a coastal retreat on the wild western shores of Vancouver Island, where rugged wilderness meets modern comfort. Overlooking the Pacific, this boutique resort is the perfect base for discovering the region's natural wonders. Guests can wander pristine beaches, savour fresh coastal cuisine, or simply relax in style, all while surrounded by British Columbia's dramatic coastline.

During your three-night stay, you'll experience the very best of Tofino's wildlife through two unforgettable Indigenous-led excursions. Your bear watching adventure takes you deep into the inlets of Clayoquot Sound, where black bears can often be seen foraging along the shoreline. Alongside them, you may spot harbour seals, sea lions, bald eagles, and other marine life. More than just a wildlife encounter, the tour is enriched with stories and cultural knowledge shared by your Ahousaht guides, who offer insight into the history, traditions, and enduring connection their Nation has with the old-growth forests and waterways of the region.

Equally inspiring is your whale watching experience, where you'll set out across the Pacific in a small vessel with experienced Indigenous guides. Depending on the season, sightings may include grey whales, humpback whales, and even transient orcas, as well as sea otters, seabirds, and other marine life. As the ocean unfolds before you, your guides will share narratives passed down through generations, weaving together natural history with the cultural significance of these waters. This is more than a tour, it is an invitation to see Tofino through the eyes of those who have cared for these lands and seas since time immemorial.

Together, these experiences combine with the comfort of Tofino Resort and Marina to create a journey that is both rejuvenating and enriching. It is a rare opportunity to immerse yourself in the beauty of Vancouver Island while gaining a deeper appreciation for the cultural and ecological treasures of Clayoquot Sound.

Day 2 Tofino

Embark on an Indigenous-guided whale watching tour and set out across the Pacific Ocean and Clayoquot Sound in a small vessel designed for intimate wildlife encounters. Over 2.5–3 hours, you may see grey whales, humpbacks, or even transient orcas, alongside sea otters, seals, and a variety of seabirds. Your knowledgeable Ahousaht guides will share stories passed down through generations, giving insight into the cultural and historical significance of the waters you explore, creating a truly immersive and unforgettable experience.

During your free time, perhaps go for an invigorating workout at the Tuff Fit waterfront gym, getting some exercise on high-end training equipment while enjoying a beautiful view over the water. Afterwards, perhaps refresh and recharge at Shelter Restaurant, featuring local delicacies, excellently prepared.

Day 3 Tofino

Today, exerience a Tofino bear watching excursion into the inlets of Clayoquot Sound, where you can witness these magnificent animals in their natural environment while discovering the area's rich cultural history. Along with black bears, you might encounter wildlife like sea lions, harbor seals, bald eagles, and various seabirds.

Although rarer, sightings of coastal wolves are still possible. The guides will share insights about the region's history, including the impacts of colonialism and the resilience of First Nations peoples in maintaining their cultural practices and connection to the land. You'll also explore the significance of the old-growth forests, which have been vital to the region's cultural heritage for generations.
