Killarney Ring of Kerry Killarney

Explore the Ring of Kerry today, one of the best-loved coastal drives in Europe.

The road follows the shoreline of the Iveragh Peninsula, passing some of the most beautiful mountain and moorland scenery in the whole of Ireland. To the south of Portmagee runs the Ring of Skellig, a quiet, scenic, though often steep, route around the most westerly point of the Iveragh Peninsula, via wild and exposed St Finian's Bay. This is the unlikely home of the small but high-quality, family run Skelligs Chocolate Factory where you may wish to enjoy a sample or two and watch the chocolates being made in their 'open plan' production area.

Your tour will take in the charming town of Kenmare, famous for its lace making, before you travel through the beautiful Molls Gap and Ladies View that offers breath-taking scenery all the way to Killarney's National Park. Return to your hotel from here. (8 hours, driver-guide)

(Please note: the ascent to the castle is not recommended for anybody who has difficulty climbing stairs).

Travel on into County Tipperary, where you can visit the Rock of Cashel. The ruined cathedral and the round tower of the early archbishops of Munster perch dramatically on top of this outcrop, and you can learn about its history in the interpretative centre.
